

Dr. Robert Madan

Dr. Robert Madan attended medical school at the University of Western Ontario and completed his psychiatry residency in psychiatry at the University of Toronto. He has been on staff at Baycrest since 2003 and is an assistant professor in the Faculty of Medicine at the University of Toronto. Dr. Madan is the Psychiatrist in Chief and Executive Medical Director of the Centre for Mental Health at Baycrest. He is also the Medical program Director for the Psychiatric Day Hospital, and is involved clinically in long term care consultation, and outpatient psychiatry.

Dr. Madan has a strong interest in education. He is the Postgraduate Education Coordinator for the Division of Geriatric Psychiatry at the University of Toronto. Additionally, Dr. Madan is the Program Director for the Geriatric Psychiatry Subspecialty Residency Program at the University of Toronto. His academic interests are in the areas education scholarship and faculty development.